Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

We ran across an editorial which originally came from the Publisher's Auxiliary which we ran on April 17, 1947.

Here it is.

"Consider the editor. A child is born into the world of a merchant in the town. The physician gets the 100 plunks. The editor writes a story and a half and tells the multitude that the child weighs the beam at nine pounds. Yes, he weighs even as a centurion. And the proud father gives him a Cremo.

"Behold, the young one grows up and graduates. And the editor or putter in the paper a swell piece. Yes, a peach of a notice. He tells of the wisdom of the young woman and of her exceeding condition. Like unto the rest of Sharon is she, and her gown is played up to best the band. And the dressmaker gets the two score and four iron men. And the editor gets a note of thanks (maybe) from the sweet girl graduate.

"And the daughter goes on to a journey. And the editor grows himself on the story of the farewell party. It runs a column solid. And the fair one remembers him from afar. But the picture postcard that costs six for a jenny.

"Behold, she returns, and the youth of the town fall down and worship. She picks one and lo, she picks a lemon. But the editor calls him one of those promising young men and gets away with it. And they send up to the editor a bid to the wedding and behold the bids are fashioned in a far city.

"Flowery and long is the wedding notice which the editor prints. The minister gets his bit.

"The editor prints a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodges notices, a cubit of poetry and a card of thanks. And he forgets to read proof on the dead and the sacred thing comes out. "Gone to Her Last Resting Place."

"And all that are akin to the deceased jump on the editor with exceeding great jumps. And they pull out their ads and cancel their ads, and they swing the hammer even unto the third and four generations."

We thought that Pat McCutcheon had no opposition in his race for the State Senate post, but he has. Adlai Stevenson Koon of Hopkinsville also seeks the Third District post. Mr. Koon's brothers are named for political figures also.

It runs in his family. One relation had twenty three children and named them for public figures. The last one was named.

Murray Lions Hear Thomas Hogancamp

Dr. Thomas B. Hogancamp, Dean of the School of Business at Murray State University, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Murray Lions Club held Tuesday, April 11, at the Martin's Chapel Methodist Church. Dr. Hogancamp is on the City Planning and Zoning Board and is a past chairman of the Board. He spoke on "Planning and Zoning in Murray."

In his presentation he stressed that the Planning Commission is primarily a study and recommendation body. It can only make recommendations to the City Council and its work is not to be confused with that of the City Board for Zoning Adjustment. He indicated that the Planning Commission has been developing a Master Plan for the orderly growth of the City of Murray. Toward this end it has prepared a number of studies. These include a population forecast, an economic survey, an existing land-use map, a major street plan, a community facilities plan, zoning regulations, a neighborhood analysis, a public improvements program, and housing, electrical, and plumbing codes. These studies are available to interested parties at the City Clerk's Office.

Presently, he reported, the Planning Commission is making a Central Business District study which it hopes to complete this year. Problems associated with traffic, such as the need for wider streets and more off-street parking, were also discussed. Dr. Hogancamp said he was currently most interested in the results of the Planning Commission's work. He stated, were improved subdivisions, various building codes, non-residential use, and the work that has been done and is currently in progress on highways 64 and 121.

At this meeting the following were nominated to serve as officers of the club for the year 1967-68: President — George Liggett; First Vice-President — C. C. Caldwell; Second Vice-President — Z. C. Enix; Third Vice-President — T. C. Collier; Treasurer — Maurice Ryan; Secretary — Joe Pat; Recording Secretary — O. B. Trevelyan; Lion Tamer — Lloyd Boyd; Board of Directors — H. B. Bailey, Jr., and Cliff Cochran.

Miss Tesseneer Is Assembly Chaplain

Rev. Mazak Is First Speaker For Mission

Rev. Stephen Mazak, Pastor of the Lutheran Church, will be the first speaker in the week-long preaching service of First Christian Church, beginning Sunday evening at 7:00. Other preachers will be: Rev. H. C. Chiles, minister of First Baptist on Monday; Rev. Lloyd Ramey, minister of First Methodist on Tuesday; Rev. Robert Burchell, minister of St. John's Episcopal on Wednesday; Rev. Henry McKenna, minister of First Presbyterian on Thursday; and, Rev. Martin Mattingly, pastor of St. Leo's Catholic on Friday.

A native of Newark, Mr. Mazak grew up in a suburb of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where his father was pastor of a Lutheran Church. He has attended Concordia Junior College in Fort Wayne, Indiana, and Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, Mo. He has been pastor of the Lutheran Church in Murray since 1964, coming from Calvary Lutheran Church in Baltimore. He served two previous parishes in Chicago, Ill. Grace and Trinity Lutheran. He is currently teaching in the Psychology Department of Murray State University, and has taught in Concordia Junior College in Milwaukee, and Concordia Teacher's College in River Forest, Illinois.

He is a member of the Lake's Area Ministry, as Chairman of the Hospital Chaplaincy Committee of the Ministerial Association, and as Secretary-Treasurer of the College Chaplain's Association. Rev. Mazak will speak Sunday evening on "Our Oneness in Christ — Through Stewardship." He will also speak Monday morning at 7:00 a.m. to the Prayer Breakfast for men. All of these meetings are open to the public.

Hazel Woman's Club Names Mrs. Jones

Mrs. J. W. Jones was elected president of the Hazel Woman's Club for the next club year at the club room. Mrs. Harold Wilkinson is the retiring president.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Hughes Bennett, first vice-president; Mrs. Edward Russell, second vice-president; Mrs. Gerald Ray, recording secretary; Mrs. Tommy Story, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Gerald Gallimore, treasurer. These new officers will be installed May 4 by Mrs. Malcolm Gross, first district governor.

Mrs. Humphrey Key of the Murray Woman's Club was the guest speaker for evening and gave a most interesting and informative talk on "Gardening Can Be Fun". The Murray woman told of all the plants found in the Bible, and also told the group how to preserve fresh flowers. She also related the right time and way to plant bulbs.

Two other visitors were Mrs. George Hart and Mrs. J. I. Hodges of the Murray Woman's Club. Mrs. Hart asked the help of the Hazel Club in circulating the Library petition in the Hazel precinct. The club voted to assist in this project in any way possible. A social hour was held with refreshments being served to the eight members and the three guests by the hostesses, Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. Jerry White.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Williams:

Some people have been asking the question, "Why do we need to tax ourselves for a public library when there is a library at Murray State University?" May I use your letter column to answer?

There are many kinds of libraries in the United States: school, public, college, state, one national library in the Library of Congress, and many special libraries, from the Newberry Library in Chicago, which among other things is strong in genealogy, to the Truman Library in Independence, Missouri, which specializes in Truman. All of them have definite purposes and objectives. All meet specific needs and do not duplicate each other.

The University Library has as its primary purpose that of supporting the curriculum and research needs of the University students and faculty. Even though the library is tax-supported, accomplishing this purpose requires the full expenditure of its funds and the full time of the library staff.

The Murray-Calloway County Library is tax-supported.

Local Plant Loses Several Days Due To Truck Strike

The Tappan Company will resume regular operations on Monday according to Ed Hendon, Plant Superintendent. The plant was closed Tuesday because of the trucking disagreement which prevented inbound and outbound freight from moving to the plant. Hendon said that calls are going out to the shifts that were working to resume normal schedules on Monday.

Robert Meyer, General Manager of the plant indicated this week when the plant was closed that the company does ship out car-load lots of its products, but depends heavily on trucks for incoming freight and for shipment of its products to specified areas. The disagreement within the trucking industry affected industrial plants across the nation until the tentative agreement was reached on Wednesday. The agreement is set for ratification today by members of the Teamsters Union.

On Wednesday of this week Meyer said that when the trucking industry "gets back in business" Tappan would reopen.

Partial Truck Lines was able to continue its operations, but was about to close down when the agreement was reached on Wednesday. Most freight is interlined, L. W. Paschall said this week, and the business of the firm was coming to a gradual halt when the agreement was made between trucking firms and the Teamsters Union.

Tappan employs approximately 450 persons at this time.

Herman Fulton Passes Away Early Today

Herman B. Fulton, prominent farmer of the Penny Community, passed away this morning at 5:40 at his home on Murray Route One. He was 67 years of age and his death was due to complications.

The deceased was elected to Murray Community Committee of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in 1965 and was serving as chairman of that committee at the time of his death. Mr. Fulton had served as an ASCS county committeeman from 1966 to 1964, serving as chairman from 1962 to 1964. Prior to 1956 he had worked with ASCS as a farmer.

Mr. Fulton was well known in the Penny community as he and his wife had operated the Penny General Store for a number of years as well as his farming interests. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fulton, also of the Penny community.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Orla Jones Fulton of Murray Route One; two sons, Robert Fulton of San Francisco, California, and Billy Joe Fulton of Birmingham, Michigan; one brother, West Fulton of Murray Route One; two grandchildren, Mark and Sally Fulton.

Fulton was a faithful member of the Union Grove Church of Christ where funeral services have been scheduled for Saturday at three p.m. Interment will be in the West Fork Cemetery.

In charge of the arrangements is the J. H. Churchill Funeral Home where friends may call until the funeral hour.

Eli Lilly Personnel Give Program

Personnel from the Eli Lilly Company presented the program yesterday at the Murray Rotary Club.

C. Virgil St. John, Assistant Director of the Tipppecanoe Laboratories, Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis and William Watts, Manager Personnel, Science and Medicine, Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis, were introduced to the Rotary members. The two in turn showed a film concerning the company's founding, how it grew, what it makes and some of the significant contributions which the company has made to the biological and biochemical industry.

Mr. St. John will be Director of the Murray plant and Mr. Watts will be Manager of Industrial Relations and Administration of the Murray plant.

The film pictured the early history of the company and some of the modern operations which take place in it.

Eli Lilly was one of the principal suppliers of Salk Vaccine when it was first introduced and still produces it. It also pioneered in the myxins such as streptomycin, ampicillin, etc. It is in this area in which the company will work here in Murray.

Following the film the two answered questions which were prompted by the Rotarians. The order of construction of the plant will be: the construction of the access road, then the earth moving to make way for the plant, then the letting of the contract for plant construction.

The plant is still on the "drawing boards" so it is expected that actual construction of the plant itself will not be until next year.

Mr. St. John is a native of Bryan, Ohio and a graduate of Purdue University. He has been with Lilly for twenty-one years. He is married and has two daughters, ages 14 and 11.

Mr. Watts was born at Twin Falls, Idaho and is a graduate of Cornell University. He has been with Eli Lilly for nine years. He is married and has three children, boys ages 7 and 9 and a girl age 5.

The film shown to the Rotary Club yesterday was entitled "I Want to Buy a Miracle".

The Almanac

by United Press International
Today is Friday, April 14, the 104th day of 1967 with 261 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and the first quarter. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

British explorer Sir James Clark Ross was born on this day in 1800.

On this day in history: In 1861, the flag of the Confederacy was raised over Ft. Sumter, S.C., as Union troops surrendered.

In 1865, John Wilkes Booth crept into President Lincoln's box at Ford's Theatre in Washington and shot the chief executive, who died the following morning.

In 1964, Sen. Barry Goldwater won the Illinois presidential primary.

In 1966, Frank Mitchell became the first Negro page in the House of Representatives.

A thought for the day — British actor Sir Arthur Wing Pinero once said: "I believe the future is only the past again, entered through another gate."

Robinson Keeps Birds Ahead In AL

By JOE GERGEN

UPI Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles are back on top of the American League East. They can say Frank Robinson's team is the only one that has won the first round of the playoffs in the AL.

That's all they need to say last year when the rest of the circuit looked into a dead faint at the sight of the powerful pitcher from Cincinnati who wound up winning the Triple Crown and the Most Valuable Player Award in his very first try.

Robinson's performance was enough to make the Orioles' road to their first AL pennant all downhill. This year he may eliminate all the curves.

That appeared to be the prospect after the 31-year-old outfielder, who finished a career high in homers in 1966, blasted his first two circuits of the season into the bleachers at Baltimore's Memorial Stadium Thursday to spark the Birds to a 7-1 rout of the Minnesota Twins.

The victory left Baltimore with a 2-0 record, the best in the AL, and also left skeptics thoroughly convinced that the Orioles must be considered top-heavy favorites in the junior circuit pennant derby.

Power Failure

The Chicago White Sox scored five five unearned runs in the ninth inning to overhaul the Boston Red Sox 6-5 in the only other league game. Cleveland and California were scheduled to meet in a night contest at Anaheim but the game was postponed by a power failure which blacked out approximately half of the lights.

San Francisco shut out the Atlanta Braves 2-0 on a four-hitter by Gaylord Perry, Cincinnati edged New York 3-2 in National League action. The Dodgers and Cardinals were rained out at St. Louis.

Robinson, who underwent a knee operation during the winter, looked remarkably healthy as he teed off on Dean Chance, the Twins' prize acquisition, in the first and third innings. In two games he now has three hits in seven at bats and three RBIs. His running mate, Brooks Robinson, also hit a solo home, his second in two games. What may be even more important in Baltimore's pennant picture, however, was the fine four-hit performance turned in by Jim Palmer, one of the pitching stars of the Birds. World Series sweep over the Dodgers. Palmer had a sore shoulder in spring training and did almost no throwing, leading to speculation that he would not be able to pitch in the starting rotation.

Chance Bombed

Not only did he pitch, however, but he pitched up there he left off in the Series. He had only one troublesome moment when Bob Allison doubled and Zoilo Versalles singled for the Minnesota run in the fifth. Chance, who suffered the defeat, was bombed for seven hits and six runs in 3 2-3 innings.

The Red Sox held a 5-3 lead entering the ninth when the Boston defense collapsed around relief pitcher Hank Palmer. Singles by Don Buford and Tim Lincecum and an error by third baseman Joe Foy loaded the bases with one out. Foy loaded the bases with one out. Foy loaded the bases with one out.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

SNOW SUITS

Over the past few months, winter sports have yielded their usual crop of collisions, contusions, and concussions. The medical consequences, as a rule, are painfully plain to see. But what of the legal consequences? Who is liable for the damage done?

There are several basic principles of negligence law that are likely to provide the answers.

One is that the management of a recreation area must set rules that will keep danger within reasonable bounds.

For example: At one winter playground, sleds and novice skiers were allowed right field, allowing one run to score.

Ron Hansen doubled off the left field wall, knocking in the tying and go-ahead runs, and Jerry Adair followed with a two-run single. Jack Lambo, who pitched the eighth inning for the White Sox, was credited with the win. Three of Boston's runs also were unearned as the result of errors by Hansen and Adair.

Not only did he pitch, however, but he pitched up there he left off in the Series. He had only one troublesome moment when Bob Allison doubled and Zoilo Versalles singled for the Minnesota run in the fifth. Chance, who suffered the defeat, was bombed for seven hits and six runs in 3 2-3 innings.

The Red Sox held a 5-3 lead entering the ninth when the Boston defense collapsed around relief pitcher Hank Palmer. Singles by Don Buford and Tim Lincecum and an error by third baseman Joe Foy loaded the bases with one out. Foy loaded the bases with one out. Foy loaded the bases with one out.

Perry Twenty-one Game Winner In '66, Fails To Get Prestige

By FRED DOWN

UPI Sports Writer

Gaylord Perry has achieved step No. 1 in his personal campaign to prove that 21 victories in 1966 made him a star instead of a fluke pitcher.

The 26-year-old native of Wilkesboro, N. C., received 20-victory status for the first time in his career last season but failed to win the prestige usually associated with the achievement. The experts attributed his success to just about everything from luck to an illegal spitball. They pointed out, among other things, that he had a 20-2 record on Aug. 20 but wound up with a 21-8 season mark.

Perry had his first chance of the new season to prove his right to recognition as a star Thursday night and came through with a four-hitter that enabled the San Francisco Giants to beat the Atlanta Braves 2-0 and score their first victory of the year.

The 6-foot, 4-inch, 205-pound right-hander walked only one batter, struck out four and was in trouble only in the fourth inning when Hank Aaron led off with a double and Mack Jones followed with an infield hit. Perry pitched out of the jam by getting Joe Torre to hit into a double play and retiring Rico Carty on a routine fly.

Mays Homers
While Mays sent the Giants off to a 1-0 lead when he hit the 54th homer of his career in the first inning and Willie McCovey produced the other San Francisco run when he homered in the fourth. Both blows were off right-hander Tony Cloninger, a 24-game winner in 1965 who slumped to 14 victories in 1966.

The win squared the Giants' record at 1-1 while the loss was the third in a row for the Braves. The Cincinnati Reds shaded the Houston Astros 5-4 and the New York Mets ripped the Pittsburgh Pirates in Thursday's other NL games. The Los Angeles Dodgers' scheduled game with the Cardinals in St. Louis was rained out.

Home hits by Tony Perez and Deron Johnson, major disappointments in 1966, paced a 12-hit attack that gave the Reds their second consecutive victory. Perez, who hit only four homers last season, hit a solo shot in the fourth inning and Johnson, whose RBI total dropped from 130 in 1965 to 81 in 1966, delivered a two-run homer in the fifth.

Pappas Routed
Milt Pappas pitched one-hit ball for five innings but was tagged for two runs on three singles, a walk and a sacrifice fly in the sixth and routed by a single by Scotty Jackson and a double by Jim Lefley in the seventh. Gerry Arrigo pitched out of that jam but needed the trap of Ted Abernathy, who shut out the Astros for the last 1 2-3 innings. Dave Giusti was the loser.

Chuck Hiller's pinch-hit double with two out in the eighth inning scored Jerry Buckner with the decisive run for the Mets and rewarded Chuck Estrada's 2 2-3 innings of shutout relief pitching with the triumph. Buckner, who hit a two-run homer in the second inning, led off the eighth with a single, moved to second on a sacrifice and to third on an infield out before Hiller's game-winning blow.

Roberto Clemente singled home the Pirates' first run in the third inning and Maury Wills singled home the other tally in the fourth. Vern Law, who went 2 2-3 innings in relief of Woody Fryman, suffered the loss.

Supreme Court Not Certain About Clay's Legal Battle

By SAM FOGG

UPI Sports Writer

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court may decide today whether to step into heavyweight champion Cassius Clay's long legal battle to avoid being drafted.

Clay's attorney, Haynes C. Corcoran, filed an appeal Thursday asking the court to block temporarily at least the champion's scheduled induction April 28 at Houston and to order a special three-judge federal court to hear his claim that the Selective Service System is unconstitutional.

The nine justices regularly convene in the privacy of their chambers on Fridays to determine which appeals they will accept and order the other justices to prepare their opinions. The court's decision is usually made by a majority vote.

Clay is under orders to report for induction two weeks from now or go to jail for draft evasion, they said to mix freely on the same slope. A girl skier, felled by a careening sled, sued the management and collected.

"It is common knowledge," said the court, "that courting sleds are not easily controlled, while novice skiers are notoriously unable to direct their own movements. The location of these runs made serious accidents not only possible but probable."

A second principle is that the equipment provided for public use should be in good working order. Thus, a court held that a skier could collect for injuries traceable to a faulty switch on a ski tow.

On the other hand, the sportsman too must show a sensible concern for his own safety. Takes this case:

A determined young couple kept right on taking rides on their toboggan, even though the path ran dangerously close to a tree. Sure enough, they finally hit the tree. The girl was injured, and in due course filed suit for damages.

But the court ruled that she herself was guilty of negligence, for continuing to toboggan in defiance of the obvious danger.

Furthermore, the very fact that you ski, skate, or toboggan means that you voluntarily accept those risks that are inherent in the sport.

A court emphasized that point in turning down the claim of a skier who was thrown off balance by a minor irregularity on the slope. Like any skier, said the judge, "the plaintiff was not seeking a retreat for meditation. He took the chance of such a fall."

And the judge added: "To hold that a ski trail down a mighty mountain, with snow conditions that constantly change, should be kept level and smooth, free from holes, would be to demand the impossible."

NEW YORK TV — Eva Gabor and Eddie Albert, stars of the CBS "Green Acres" series, will be co-hosts for the 18th annual International Beauty Pageant finals that will be telecast by ABC live from Long Beach, Calif., at 9:30 p. m. April 20. Each of the 50 states and 40 foreign countries will have entrants.

CBS will have four new one-hour comedy-variety shows on the air this summer as seasonal replacements for regular programs. "The comedy team of Jack Burns and Avery Schreiber heads the show that will replace the Smothers Brothers on Sunday night. "Spotlight" will fill Red Skelton's Tuesday spot. Steve Allen stars in a series to replace Danny Kaye on Wednesday and Jackie Gleason's Saturday spot will be occupied by a program featuring comedian George Carlin, singer Grease and Buddy Rich and his orchestra.

ABC has decided to give a full two hours to its May 7 telecast of the musical, "Carousel," instead of the 90 minutes originally scheduled. The sponsor requested the extra half hour so the Rodgers-Hammerstein classic could be given a more elaborate presentation and promised to add no more commercials.

Producer Joe Cates plans a 90-minute video special of "Spoon River," the stage production he presented on Broadway in the 1963-64 season based on Edgar Lee Masters' poetic "biography" of a small mid-western community. CBS will present it in the fall.

Singer Vic Damone will be the host of NBC's summer replacement show for Dean Martin's Thursday night program. Other regulars will be singer-dancer-actress Carol Lawrence and Dean's singing daughter, Gail.

Veterans Questions & Answers

Q. — I am presently attending college under the new G. I. Bill. I plan to marry soon. How should I notify the Veterans Administration that I have a dependent so that the rate of my educational allowance can be increased?

A. — The Veterans Administration will pay the additional allowance for your dependent from the date of notification of your marriage. This may be done by letter. The additional allowance will not be paid, however, until a copy of the marriage certificate is furnished.

Q. — I am planning a trip abroad next year and am asking for certain compelling reasons.

financial matters. I receive a disability compensation check from the Veterans Administration each month. I understand that mail service in some foreign countries is a bit unreliable. Could I arrange to have my checks sent to my bank during my trip?

A. — Yes. There is a procedure whereby you may have your checks sent to a bank for deposit to your account. Your bank will assist you in making the arrangements. The VA must know, of course, where to mail the checks and so a change of address must be submitted.

Q. — I am a World War II veteran, and have just paid the last installment on my 20-year G. I. home loan. Am I entitled to another loan before the July 25, 1967, deadline for World War II veterans?

A. — Full repayment of a G. I. loan does not, in itself, entitle you to another loan. However, your entitlement may be restored until July 25, 1967, if you are forced to sell for certain compelling reasons.

Rev. Jack Jones, pastor of the Locust Grove Baptist Church, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Bethany Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church, held on Monday, April 10, at seven o'clock in the evening in the private dining room of the Triangle Inn.

"Questions That God Has Asked Us" was the theme of his discussion. The questions and Scripture verses were as follows: What are we doing here? I Kings 19:9; What Hath Thou Done? Genesis 4:10; What Hath Thou Seen In Thy House? I Kings 20:13; What Men Are These With Thee? Numbers 22:9; God Always Finds Us Out, I Samuel 15:4; Be Not Angry, Joshua 4:4; Is Thou God Able? Daniel 6:20.

Rev. Jones was introduced by Mrs. Ovelle Anderson, Mrs. O. C. Wells, president, presided and the opening prayer was led by Rev. Jones with another prayer led by Mrs. J. F. Rogers, teacher. The group read I Peter 5:7 in unison and sang the song, "Be Careful For You." Mrs. Charles Metter read the minutes and Mrs. Joe Parker gave the treasurer's report.

A report of those who are ill was given by Mrs. Rogers. Reports of the chairs and curtains for the class room were given. The closing prayer was led by Mrs. Vivian Shelton, a new member of the class. Mrs. Ethel Ward was also a guest for the evening. Twenty-three members were present.

Mrs. Hoy Stewart, Mrs. Graves Hendon, Mrs. J. F. Rogers, and Mrs. W. J. Parker, hostesses, served pie and coffee following the close of the meeting.

Mrs. W. A. Erwin Opens Home For Kirksey WNU Meet

The Woman's Missionary Union of the Kirksey Baptist Church met in the new home of Mrs. W. A. Erwin on Thursday, April 6, at seven o'clock in the evening with nine members present.

"The First and Twentieth Century Churches" was the subject of the study conducted by Mrs. Jackie Tress, Mrs. Tom Stewart, Mrs. Jack Olin, Mrs. R. W. Blakeley, Mrs. Herman Robertson, Mrs. Jim Washer, and Mrs. Erwin.

The WNU is making a special offering for Hendley Church who is starting a mission in Samsnow, Mich., and any person desiring to give to this worthy cause may give it to any of the WNU members by the last of the month.

Plans were made for the mission book study to be held Thursday, April 27. Each and everyone is urged to attend.

The next regular meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Jackie Tress on Thursday, May 4, at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Zane Coleman Hostess For Alice Waters Circle Meet

Dorothy Moore Circle of First Presbyterian Church women was entertained Monday evening by Mrs. Zeffie Woods, the meeting being held in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Hopkins, on Cardinal Drive. She was assisted in serving by another daughter, Miss Elizabeth Woods.

Mrs. Walter Baker, chairman, presided over the business meeting. Devotions based on the Year Book of Prayer for Missions were led by Mrs. Henry McKenna.

Announcement was made of Women's Association meeting on April 17, of West Kentucky Presbyterian Society's spring meeting in Hopkinsville, and of Church Women United's annual Conference in Paducah on May 1, 2, and 3, as well as of May Fellowship Luncheon on May 5.

Bette Taylor, program chairman, led the lesson based on Paul's Letter to Philippians.

Mrs. Zeffie Woods Hostess At Dorothy Moore Circle Meet

Mrs. Zane Coleman was hostess for the meeting of the Alice Waters Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church held Tuesday, April 11, at nine-thirty o'clock in the morning at the social hall of the church.

"The Need For Christians To Take Part in Dialogue With Other World Religions" was the theme of the program presented with Mrs. Lillian Graves as the leader. Mrs. Graves, acting as a Christian missionary, and Mrs. Nell Eason, acting as a missionary from Islam, presented a dialogue. The program was closed with the group singing "In Christ There Is No East Or West."

The circle chairman, Mrs. Don Robinson, opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer, and the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Frank Kane. Mrs. Robinson announced that the general meeting on May 2 will be a potluck luncheon with new members as guests, and the every member evening will be held at the church on May 3.

The Fellowship luncheon of the Church Women United will be held at the First Methodist Church on Friday, May 5, at noon.

Names were drawn for the new circles for the new church year. It was announced that May was the month for the members of the Alice Waters Circle to visit the patients at the Westview Nursing Home and at the Convalescent Division of the Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

Trees Discussed At DAR Luncheon Meet At Triangle Inn

The April meeting of the Wendell Quary Chapter of the DAR was held Saturday noon, April 8, in the Triangle Inn.

The meeting was called to order by the report, Mrs. John Nance. After the opening ritual and pledge of allegiance to the flag, Mrs. Price Doyle gave the invocation.

Following reading of the President General's message by Mrs. John Nance, an interesting talk on "Defendant Defense" was made by Mrs. Leon Grogan.

To emphasize the importance of conservation, members related stories of famous trees. Among interesting tales about trees was one told by Mrs. Foreman Graham about "The Marrying Tree," which grew near her childhood home in Tennessee.

The chapter was happy to have as a guest Mrs. Elwood Murray, formerly of Denver, whose husband Dr. Elwood Murray is a visiting professor at Murray State University.

Mrs. C. W. Waldrup and Mrs. Foreman Graham were hostesses.

Personals

Bob Kelley was recently dismissed from the Western Baptist Hospital, Paducah, and is now a patient at the Western Nursing Home on South 16th Street.

Imagination Can Play Tricks

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: While I was out of town recently, my husband accompanied a very attractive friend of ours to a dinner party. (Her husband was also out of the city.) Upon questioning him, he told me he took her home and went in with her after midnight and had a drink.

I have not drawn a happy breath since. Altho I don't think anything serious happened, it could have, as both this woman and my husband are very physically attractive.

Now I am uncomfortable in this woman's presence. I feel she is smirking, and knows something I don't know. We are constantly thrown together, and after being friends for years I have actually developed a dislike for her.

I keep imagining there is something between her and my husband. When I mention it to my husband he says I am "foolish." How can I get this thing out of my mind, Abby? It is eating my heart out.

MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: Your "mystery" is a classic example of what imagination can do. This may sound like a preposterous over-simplification, but I can give you two magic words which will solve your problem. "FORGET IT!" If you nag your husband, or show your contempt for the lady, you will tempt your husband and this woman to join forces against a common "enemy." YOU! Say nothing, ask no questions, and be a real passionate kiss right on the your old sweet self.

DEAR ABBY: I answered an "ad" in a magazine for information about joining a flower club. All I wanted was information about joining, but before I knew it, they started sending me all kinds of seeds.

I didn't want those seeds and did not order any seeds, so I just put them aside. I may have even thrown some away. Now I am getting letters from this flower club telling me that if I don't either send them the money or the seeds they are going to sue me.

Abby, I am worried sick. Can they sue me? For God's sake, help me! I have six children and no money to go to court to fight this thing.

CAN'T SLEEP

DEAR ABBY: I have a letter in the waste basket. No one is obligated to pay for — or RETURN — anything that is sent to him unsolicited.

DEAR ABBY: One day while cleaning the living room, I came across an unfinished letter my daughter was writing her girl friend. It was hidden behind the sofa cushion. Here is what I read:

"Dear B —

This afternoon Mr. B. came over. He's Mom's and Dad's best friend. Mom was out. He hung around and hung around. Finally he pulled me closer and gave me a real passionate kiss right on the

I told him he'd better leave, but Kiddy was I started. I'll never tell my folks as it would break up a beautiful friendship.

Needless to say, Abby, I cooled that friendship quickly. With "friends" like that, who needs enemies? I am glad I read this letter as there are some things a daughter won't tell regardless of her relationship with her mother. You say you are against "noodling." Do you still think I was "WRONG, WRONG, WRONG?"

DEAR WRONG: You were cleaning your living room, not "noodling" when you came across your daughter's letter. There's a difference. And in this case, your daughter could hardly charge you with mistrust or prying. You did what came naturally and your daughter knows it.

How has the world been treating you? Unless you're problems are in a magazine for information about joining a flower club, all I wanted was information about joining, but before I knew it, they started sending me all kinds of seeds.

Household Hints

United Press International
Every housewife knows that gasoline and other flammable liquids can explode and burn violently. But few recognize the explosive properties of organic dusts such as flour, vacuum cleaner sweepings, or sawdust. Don't throw flour on a kitchen grease floor. Don't toss dust sweepings on an open fire. Instead, wrap and place in a trash-burner. Ignite when the wind won't blow the dust.

Salt crisp green beans just before serving. Otherwise, the salt will wilt the greens.

CHAPTER 29

THE FLIGHT plan had been filed at the airport. Dr. Parnell was to land the following morning at nine-thirty.

"So we have today and tonight," Lucien Thayer said. "Can General Laurent get his men organized and out here by then? What about Roger Stevens? Can he pick up and leave without having a warrant issued for him? That might tip them off."

"Let's find a motel," David Carson said. "I'll call Laurent from there. He'll make it. And I think Eustace will adjourn the committee until after Brockenside's funeral. Services are to be held in Washington tomorrow, and the burial back home the following day. He's making a big thing of this for some reason. Of course, my absence might raise some questions, but it can't be helped. I told Marian to let it slip out that I was beside myself with grief and planned to forego the public ceremonies."

"Good enough," Lucien said. Laurent arrived later in the day, the council of war was held in the small, air-conditioned room that Lucien had rented. The map was hung on the wall; a wavering pencil line traced the valley that Lucien had left. Laurent pursed his lips as he looked at it.

"We scouted that one," he said finally, "and gave up on it. There's no landing strip, and it is inaccessible in any way."

"False boulders," Lucien said. "Foam rubber, or some thing. They simple roll them out of the way for landings and take-offs."

Laurent absorbed that information, then nodded.

"I'll have thirty men in here by tomorrow night," he said.

Lucien nodded. "What's his usual procedure when he returns here?"

Roger Stevens answered him, glancing at a notebook from time to time. "He has a house on the grounds of his hospital. He's treating a total of seven patients with a new medicine that he administers personally, taking it from his house to the hospital, and replacing it himself. No one else touches it."

"Our friend at the hospital hasn't been able to get inside the house at all, and can tell us nothing of what goes on there, but she has been watching those seven patients, and she has seen him giving them their medicine. And she thinks at least three of them should have been dead a month ago."

"I'll be," Lucien said when

Roger snapped the notebook shut. "I wonder if Skinner knows his pet genius is experimenting on his own. I suspect that as far as Skinner and Eustace know, those are the only ones receiving the stuff..."

A look of surprise flashed over his face suddenly and he stood up. "Skinner! I think General Skinner is taking the drug, also," he said slowly. "That would explain... several things."

The following day they waited for Laurent's men, getting hourly reports from the surveillance team watching Parnell. By midnight the flight plan, follow-up procedure and wrap-up plan were ready.

Lucien and David entered Parnell's sprawling house. The wait seemed interminable. After half an hour there were steps in the hallway, going toward the den that opened from the living room. Lucien and David followed, and Lucien's foot was in the door when Parnell gave it a push to close it.

Parnell stared at them without expression for a moment, and then smiled cordially. "Mr. Thayer, I congratulate you. We were forced to assume that you had died. And this is..."

"David Carson," Lucien said, as cool and unperturbed as Parnell.

"And now, Mr. Thayer, what is the next scene in this little farce?"

"Next? What would you guess would be next, Doctor?"

"Shoot me? Press the gun into my hand to make it appear suicide?"

"But isn't that terribly crude, Doctor? I'm certain you would never be guilty of such crudity. Tell me, Doctor, how did you play to get rid of Skinner when his usefulness was past? And Eustace? What's to be his destiny when he's no longer needed? It must have been a lovely scene; the three of you raising your glasses simultaneously..."

"You did participate didn't you, Doctor?"

"What do you mean?"

"You know what I mean!"

Parnell's arm swept out suddenly, but Lucien was faster, lifting the stoppered retort on the desk in a movement that drew the doctor's eye, letting Parnell's arm cut through empty air. The scientist stared at Lucien. "Don't you can kill me easier with that than with a gun," he said. "A minute mistake in dosage means instant death."

"The dose is 150 cc per pound of weight, isn't it?" Lucien asked, holding the retort to the light. "Surely there are measured tubes about..."

Parnell's face was turning a dirty gray as he continued to watch Lucien. He touched his tongue to his lips. "It would be murder," he said.

"Did you make sure that Skinner understood that? And the men in your little hospital? And the patients here?"

"They were going to die anyway."

"But aren't we all, Doctor? Aren't we all?"

Lucien moved across the room and opened a cabinet. It had test tubes and retorts, and measured glasses. He took out one and went to the window and started to pour the liquid. "One-fifty-five? Is that about right, Doctor?" He glanced at Parnell and when the scientist made no reply he shrugged. "I'll make a guess at that and add two pounds. One-fifty-seven times 150... that comes to about 24.96 cc. Is 25 too inaccurate?"

He finished pouring the drug and returned to the desk. Parnell seemed hypnotized by the glass he carried. "Did you miss Skinner's with something? Wine? Water? Does it have a vile taste or anything that you'd like to make?"

David withdrew his gun as Parnell turned wildly to him. He held it levelly without a quiver in his hand and Parnell turned again to Lucien. "You don't know what you are doing? You aren't like the other? Skinner—what do you care about Skinner? He wants to run the world like a military camp. Want difference can he make to you or to me? I'll use him! Yes! They are born to be used! Men like that are good for nothing except to be used."

Lucien walked around the desk and Parnell jumped to his feet and started to back away. Still holding the glass in his hand, Lucien followed him until Parnell was tripped by a low stool and fell to the floor. Lucien knelt by his side and extended the glass. With a mean Parnell tried to strike it from Lucien's hand.

"You will drink it, Parnell. Lucien said quietly. "You will have time then, time to change the world, time, maybe, to let the counteract to nullify the side effects of this drug. You will have all the time in the world, Parnell."

What will Lucien find when and if he sees Stella again?

VELSICOL HEPTACHLOR

SOIL INSECTICIDE

protects tobacco from soil insect damage all season

Here's Why Heptachlor Rates High

Heptachlor kills wireworms, cutworms and all other major soil insects attacking tobacco. There's plenty of scientific data that shows one broadcast application of Heptachlor at or before transplanting time protects your crop all season. Versatile Heptachlor has no unpleasant odor. Dealers carry Heptachlor dusts, granules, sprays and fertilizer mixtures. Heptachlor is dependable against the many insects attacking tobacco. Apply it anytime from the previous fall up to three inches before tobacco is set. When you use Heptachlor, you have sound insect control at low cost. Order from your dealer today.

HIGHEST FFA AWARD — Charles Magnus, left, assistant general manager of Production Credit Association, Mayfield, is pictured receiving an honorary FFA State Farmer degree from Sherman Walker, state FFA Association reporter, during a recent Purchase Federation FFA Day at Murray State University. The degree is the highest FFA award presented to persons not directly connected with the FFA organization. Magnus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otho Magnus, Farmer Avenue, Murray, is married to the former June Barnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Barnett, also of Murray. They have three children, Lesley, David, and Elizabeth.

some of the "hot names" in the music business. Stops on their musical journey in recent months include Dick Clark's Caravans with such stars as Paul Revere and the Raiders, The Byrds, Peter and Gordon, The We Five, Gary Lewis and the Playboys, Sam the Sham and The Yardbirds. Stops have also included the group's larger cities for appearances with the Jerry Lee Lewis Greatest Live Show and other engagements with the Gentrys, Bo Diddley, and Willie Mitchell.

The group recently made a television show for Channel 13 in Bowling Green. The hit Co Co will appear weekly starting this month.

According to Webster, the technical staff of WLTV did an excellent job of recording and taping the show.

The other PJC contribution to the band is lead guitarist extraordinaire, Mark Dodd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vene Dodd from Paducah. He has that "indie" something called "soul" — that extra bit of talent that can't be learned, but must be innate. Dodd is generally conceded to be unsurpassed in the Paducah area. He also arranges the band's selections and sings.

Johnny Lovins, a senior at Murray High, is the combination song writer, guitarist, pianist, singer, and full-time clown of the group. His monastic haircut (or hair uncut), and cherubic countenance, tend to belie his musical ability, but all is corrected when he plays. The boys recorded two of Johnny's songs, "Don't Want To Leave" and "Always," for American Studios in Memphis last November. It will be released soon on the Allendale label and sold in the area.

The "beat" is provided by David Cope on bass guitar, and Queen Nanny, also a Murray High senior, on drums.

Cope is the quiet one of the group, quiet almost to solemnity as he plays — and he plays well. Nanny is a converted bassman and has taken readily to the drums, showing that he lost nothing in the trade.

The fifth member of the band is trumpeter and lead singer Larry Lancaster, of Mayfield, a sophomore at Murray State University. His horn and lung singing style completes the full house of sounds of the Discotones.

The group have many memories of their climb to prominence since 1963, when the sound that youngsters "identify with" began in West Kentucky.

Many talented youngsters from Mayfield and the area have played with the band in past years. At least two of the talented group have gone out to form their own new groups. The Discotones are well known for hard work from the standpoint to please the audience. "After all that is what the public pays us for," the leader said.

"Sure we want bookings and we are prepared to pick up a heavier schedule now that the school books will soon be put up for the summer," Webster said. Two senior proms, Sedalia High School and Fancy Farm High School, are on the engagement list of the Discotones this spring. Most weekends find them radiating their showmanship, personalities and sound in the area. The group is "real good" and getting better. You listening — Ed Sullivan?

Library has many other purposes. The American public library has been called "The People's University." As a representative of many, our public library tries to meet the legitimate needs of all its patrons, whether it be bookmobile service for city and county, reference service for the business man, story-telling for children, records from the record collection, books for the children, inter-library borrowing of almost any book anywhere, or just making available library materials for the educational and recreational needs of the citizens of Calloway County.

While the University Library will always welcome persons who have a need to use our materials, it could not begin to provide full library service to Calloway County without neglecting its primary purpose. We need to strengthen all our libraries, including those in our schools, not give up any one of them.

Surely we all know we have to pay for what we get, but if we vote to continue the Murray-Calloway County Library, we will be getting much more than we will pay for. We are being offered a bargain, because unless we have a locally supported library for the state to work through, we will lose all of the State Library services. These can continue to be available only if we meet them part way by voting for this proposed program. We must not fall to take advantage of this opportunity.

Sincerely yours,
Ambrose Easterly
Librarian
Murray State University
